Marmon Mok's design for the Texas State University Recreation Center.

Congrats to the folks at Marmon Mok, who designed the Texas State University Student Recreation Center.

The rec center just won the 2010 Outstanding Sports Facilities Award from the National Intramural-Recreational Sports Association and the 2010 Innovative Architecture and Design Award from Recreation Management magazine.

These awards recognize design, creativity and innovation.

The 94,000-square-foot, $31 million addition to the recreation center opened last year. It includes a 54-foot rock-climbing wall, lap and leisure pools, running track, boxing room, weight and cardio rooms, indoor soccer courts and a golf simulator.
